Detail Action

This office action is responsive to the amendment filed on 01/16/07.

Rejection Under 35 U.S.C. 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 7-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. In the equalizing process including the convolution of  $(k-s*D)^{(1+D)^n}$ , the newly recited limitation i.e. "except  $k=1$ ,  $s=1$  and  $n=2$ " is not supported by the specification as originally filed. In fact, as described on page 44 of the specification, the values  $k=1$ ,  $s=1$  and  $n=2$  are utilized in the examples shown.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-6 allowed.

Claims 1-6 are allowed over the prior art of the record for the same reasons indicated in the office action mailed on 08/26/05.

Response to Remarks

Applicant's arguments filed on 01/16/07 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant argue that "Applicants simply are not required to claim every single possible embodiment from the specification though, as Examiner appears to be implying. The written description requirement is not violated if Applicant choose to claim only some disclosed embodiments and not others.”

However, it should be noted that rejection is not applied because applicant is required to claim every single possible embodiment as alleged by the applicant, but the rejection is applied because every claimed limitations are not supported by the specification.

Applicant further argue that none of the examples shown on page 44 of the the present specification “collectively include all of these values”  $k=1$ ,  $s=2$  and  $n=2$  together.

Again, the rejection is applied because every claimed limitations are not supported by the specification. The limitation “except  $k=1$ ,  $s=1$  and  $n=2$ ” is not defined in the specification.

Furthermore, the value  $k=1$ ,  $s=1$  and  $n=2$  are used in the examples on the page 44 of the present specification. Rejection as applied is therefore considered proper.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
